A: I found out what was the problem. It was that I registered a normal route for my authorization URL. I was able to manually register my normal route with the Facebook PHP SDK. Now it works like a charm! This invention relates to a thrombectomy filter. More specifically, the invention relates to an improved thrombectomy filter which is currently used in combination with an angioplastic catheter. Such filters are utilized to trap embolic material which may be released from within a vessel wall and which may circulate in the bloodstream. This invention discloses a filter which is improved by the addition of a conical cap over a central section of the filter. This filter, in combination with an angioplastic catheter, is utilized to trap embolic material. An angioplastic catheter is utilized with this filter to facilitate the introduction of the catheter through the filter and into the 3ef4e8ef8d
