Additionally, you can view the number of mastered shortcuts and a separate pie chart for each of the supported programs. These statistics can be used to assess your performance and how much you have learned by reading and applying the suggestions. You can fine-tune the app's behaviour by changing the suggestion frequency and display time. By default, the latest notifications are shown in the tray icon menu. However, you can review the entire list and search for a certain key combination from the Shortcut Browser.
