With Hotspot Shield, you are free from malware and identity theft. Hide your IP address on the internet Hotspot Shield is a free anonymous Virtual Private Network service for your computer, smartphone, tablet or other Internet-enabled device. Hotspot Shield is based on peer-to-peer encryption technology. What is Peer-to-Peer Encryption? Peer-to-peer encryption is an advanced encryption system in which the encryption keys are exchanged directly between the communicating peers. How does it work? To hide your identity, Hotspot Shield works by creating a virtual private network (VPN) between you and other devices that have Hotspot Shield installed. When you are connected to the Hotspot Shield VPN, your computer acts as a server. Through the VPN, your computer acts like a trusted server, helping you to securely browse the web, download files, make video calls, or send and receive emails. Hotspot Shield allows you to open and close VPN connections as many times as you want. This way, you don't have to wait for the VPN to establish a connection before you are able to use it. As a user of Hotspot Shield, you can set your Hotspot Shield device to automatically connect to public Wi-Fi networks at Wi-Fi hotspots. Connect to new networks using a click Hotspot Shield keeps a network map on your computer. It shows you the location of the Wi-Fi hotspots where you have connected to in the past. The map also shows you the name of the organization that owns the Wi-Fi hotspot, and it tells you whether the hotspot uses a shared network. Select a hotspot and click Connect. Hotspot Shield will establish a secure connection with the hotspot and automatically connect you to it. This is so simple that anyone can do it. Access private and secure files Secure your personal files on
